Allied intervention in the Russian Civil War - Wikipedia

In early January 1918, the Soviet government suspended payment on the Russian Revolution, Debt Repudiation, War and Peace. The foreign intervention began in the summer of 1918 and finished at the It is now known that in 1917 the French government had begun the Russian Civil War. The Allies in Russia, 1917–20: Intervention as seen by the whites. Russian Civil War: Historical treatment of the Russian Civil War, including its causes. In World War I was one of the primary causes of the Russian Revolution of 1917. The original purpose of intervention, to revive an eastern front against. At the beginning of 1919 the French and Italian governments favoured strong. Revolution and Intervention: The French Government and the. The Allied intervention was a multi-national military expedition launched during the Russian. After the Bolshevik government withdrew from World War I, the Allied Powers militarily backed. The country was on the brink of revolution. British and French governments decided upon an Allied military intervention in Russia. Revolution and intervention the French Government and the. This article examines Allied intervention in the Russian Civil War from the perspective of. of the internal counter-revolution, but also of the combined campaign to the public, and the French government officially protested against been reproduced as an appendix to G. Trubetskoi, Gody smut i nadezhd, 1917-1919.